We create meetings,
that really matters

We have realised many conferences, smaller and larger meetings.

That's years of experience, masses of participants and many partners.

We know what a successful event depends on – we know how to build and adapt a message for participants, we know how to get them involved, we know how to conduct demand generation campaigns and how to effectively support the promotion of a meeting.

WE ARE WELL AWARE OF ALL THE ELEMENTS OF RISK IN SUCH PROJECTS AND KNOW HOW TO MANAGE THEM EFFECTIVELY.

Good organisation and the ability to run an event project are only the basics – what counts is the right, appropriately large audience and programme – factors that determine the rank and reception of a meeting. The participant recruitment process consists of many elements – we are able to manage this process dynamically and have the resources necessary for its effective implementation. We are familiar with the content side – the various aspects of IT applications in a business context and the functioning of public institutions. The ability to combine all these elements is our added value.

Our Partners, who come back to us for subsequent conferences, and above all satisfied Participants, are for us a measure of success and proof that our actions have the desired effect.

SUCCESSFUL CONFERENCES ARE PART OF OUR DNA. WE ARE EXPERTS IN OUR FIELD,

WHY BECOME A PARTNER OF OUR EVENTS?

- We will increase the effectiveness of your business goals
- We will provide you with a valuable meeting that will ensure a return return on your investment
- We offer an original, unconventional and distinctive form of a meeting form of the meeting
- We take care to ensure a high level of content programme and the best speakers, using our knowledge, relationships and experience gained in the implementation of many business meetings
- We will match the profile of the participant to the specificity of the topic and ensure the presence of those you care about most
- We work with repeat business partners

How large language models can support business growth.
Meeting of LLM implementation practitioners

9 DECEMBER 2025 ONSITE CONFERENCE, COPERNICUS SCIENCE CENTER, WARSAW, POLAND
10 DECEMBER 2025 ONLINE WORKSHOPS

The significant increase in business interest in LLM solutions, as well as enthusiastic forecasts in this area, provided the motivation for a conference dedicated to Large Language Models (LLM) and their practical applications in business and the public sector.

The possible applications of large language models in business are many: from analyzing terabytes of unstructured data, helping generate ideas or assisting, or even having artificial intelligence take over customer service.

Participants at the AI LLM Masters will learn how to leverage the advantages of LLM, but also how to avoid mistakes and increase the chances of implementing this technology successfully and effectively in an organization. For Conference Partners, this is a unique opportunity to meet pioneers and practitioners of large-scale language model implementations.

The conference will gather

Those responsible for the implementation of large-scale language models in the organization, both on the technical and process side, in particular, in the roles of: AI & Data Director, AI Manager, Automation Manager, Innovation Director, Data Scientist, Data Engineer, AI Architect/developer, AI Project Manager.

Planned number of participants 150–200 participants.

ADVANCED THREAT SUMMIT

The most important conference in Poland for active cybersecurity managers

PROGRAM STRUCTURE

We are pleased to present the program structure of Advanced Threat Summit 2025.

To meet the need for continuing topics for top-level cybersecurity managers, we have enriched the program on Day 2 of the conference with a track dedicated to CISOs.

An element of this part of the program will be the Futurology Panel – where cyber is going.

We invite heads of technology companies (CEOs, Country Managers) to participate in the Futurology Panel – where cyber is going, the discussion will focus on the future of cybersecurity development in the next 2-3 years.

We anticipate the participation of 4 people.

In 1st round of the discussion, each participant will put forward his or her thesis on the development of cybersecurity (one selected aspect) and explain why he or she sees this area developing in the future.

This thesis will be immediately presented as a question to the audience. We will ask the audience to vote: whether they agree with the thesis or not. We will present the results live on the screen.

In the 2nd round, the panelists will address the theses of the other participants and have the opportunity to comment on the results of the audience vote.

PRESENTATION OF THE CONFERENCE

AI LLM Masters

AI LLM Masters 2025
Special edition of AI Summit Poland

How large language models can support business growth.

Meeting of LLM implementation practitioners

The significant increase in business interest in LLM solutions, as well as enthusiastic forecasts in this area, have provided the reason for a new conference focused on Large Language Models (LLM) - and their practical applications in business and the public sector. According to the PwC report "Ready for Artificial Intelligence," the use of chatbots and voicebots in customer service can reduce costs by 50% and reduce response times to customer inquiries by up to 60%. And according to an Accenture report, LLM-related generative artificial intelligence (GenAI) will significantly change Polish financial institutions, according to 60% of managers at companies in the sector.

The implementation of LLM also presents challenges in the areas of data quality and security, the speed of the model, the cost of using it, the integration of its operation into the company's overall processes, and the willingness and ability of employees and customers to use the model safely. According to the EY survey, 80% of CISOs are concerned about the role of artificial intelligence in attacks on their organizations, and 39% are concerned about irresponsible use of the technology.

The AI LLM Masters conference is a unique event for practitioners of large-scale language model implementations. Participants will learn how to leverage the advantages of LLM, but also how to avoid mistakes and increase the chances of effective and efficient implementation of this technology in an organization.

THEMES

Implementing the Large Language Model is not just a matter of technology, but a complex implementation project. To facilitate it, we will cover the following topics at the conference:

- Overview of large language models: including Gemini, GPT, Llama, Claude, PLUM, Bielik, Grok - differences, advantages and optimal applications
- Case studies: LLM implementations in practice
- LLM vs. alternatives - Natural Language Processing, Machine Learning
- Technical side of LLM: on-premise, cloud or hybrid?
- Security of large language models, or what can go wrong
- LLM ROI, or whether it pays off
- Data management in LLM
- Model training - how to acquire secure and high-quality data
- Legal aspects of using LLM
